JOB SUMMARY:

About the Agency:

The Department of Energy's Office of Intelligence and Counterintelligence (DOE-IN) provides timely and direct intelligence, counterintelligence and cyber support to the Secretary of Energy, the Administrator of the National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA) and other DOE/NNSA senior officials, National Laboratory leadership and the Intelligence Community (IC). DOE-IN analyzes and produces intelligence related to foreign nuclear programs, proliferation issues, energy security, and other national security issues relevant to DOE policy-makers. DOE-IN also develops and implements effective counterintelligence and cyber programs that identify, neutralize and deter foreign government penetration of the DOE enterprise, and protect its people, facilities, technologies, intellectual property and networks.

The DOE-IN Mission: Identify and mitigate threats to U.S. national security and the DOE Enterprise and inform national security decision making through scientific and technical expertise.

The position requires a DOE Q clearance and a Top Secret Security clearance with Special Compartmented Information (SCI) Access. All employees assigned to the Office of Intelligence and Counterintelligence must successfully pass a counterintelligence (CI) evaluation, and may be subject to a CI-scope polygraph examination. These clearances and accesses are an absolute requirement for this position. It is imperative that the incumbent maintain eligibility for them. Without these clearances and accesses, it is not possible to perform the functions of the position. Loss of these clearances will require dismissal.

The Incumbent supervises the Department of Energy, Intelligence Watch Office for the Office of Intelligence and Counterintelligence.

Intelligence Activities," dated April 12, 1981 and the "Atomic Energy Act of 1954," as amended. The CI program's relationship with the FBI is defined by a variety of legislative and executive directives summarized in a "Memorandum of Understanding between the Department of Energy and the FBI," dated May 10, 1999.

As the Supervisory, Intelligence Research Specialist, you must be able to obtain and maintain a DOE "Q" clearance with access to Sensitive Compartmented (SCI) Access/Security Clearance. All employees of the CI Directorate are subject to and must successfully complete a CI Evaluation, which may also include a CI-scope polygraph examination. These clearances and accesses are an absolute requirement for this position. It is imperative that the incumbent maintain eligibility for them. Without these clearances and accesses, it is not possible to perform these functions. Loss of these clearances will require dismissal.
